OF TELEVISION ARTS & SCIENCES
ANNOUNCES WINNERS FOR
THE 41st ANNUAL DAYTIME CREATIVE ARTS
EMMY® AWARDS

Russ Morash Honored with Daytime Lifetime Achievement Award

Los Angeles, CA – June 20, 2014 – Tonight, The National Academy of Television Arts & Sciences (NATAS) announced the winners of the 41st Annual Daytime Entertainment Creative Arts Emmy® Awards in a sold-out, grand gala for over 1,200 attendees at the Westin Bonaventure, in downtown Los Angeles.

“This evening is a tribute to the hundreds of nominees that raise the bar year-in and year-out of what’s possible in Daytime television,” said Malachy Wienges, Chairman, NATAS. “With this year’s over 1,400 entrants, and the over 1,200 attendees including this year’s Lifetime Achievement honoree, Russell Morash, here tonight, it’s another great year for Daytime television and the Daytime community.”

Tonight’s illustrious group of presenters included June Lockhart, George Chakiris, Leeza Gibbons, Joseph Rosendo, “Joseph Rosendo’s Travelscope”, JD Roberto and Rebecca Budig, hosts of “The Better Show”, Norm Abrams, Kevin O’Connor , Richard Trethewey , Roger Cook , Tom Silva from “This Old House”, David Rudman with Cookie Monster and Leslie Carrara-Rudolph with Abby Cadabby from “Sesame Street”, Hayley Faith Negrin, voice of “Peg” in “Peg+Cat”, The Fresh Beat Band: Jon Beavers, Yvette Gonzalez-Nacer, Tara Perry and Thomas Hobson. Stars presenting from the Daytime Dramas include Lauralee Bell, Jess Walton, and Sean Carrigan of “The Young and the Restless,” Denyse Tontz, and Eric Nelsen of “All My Children,” Tuc Watkins, and Kaisie DePaiva of “One Life to Live,” Guy Wilson, and Freddie Smith of “Days of Our Lives,” William DeVry, and Lisa LoCicero of “General Hospital,” and Heather Tom and Don Diamont of “The Bold and the Beautiful.”

Russ Morash

Russ Morash was fresh out of college when he entered the young world of television in 1957. At the time, his employer, Boston’s WGBH, had been on the air for only two years. He immediately put the theater training he’d received at Boston University to work mounting productions and dealing with talent. He knew talent when he saw it, and when he began working with a “strange woman with this strange accent” named, Julia Child, “The French Chef” – and “how-to television” – were born. Over time, Russ’s personal enthusiasms—cooking, gardening, home repair, woodworking—would become, through his choice of talent, tone, and content, America’s first foray into “reality television.”

In 1975, he dragged two huge studio cameras outside to record the first episode of “Crockett’s Victory Garden” in raised beds set up in the station’s parking lot. Three years later, he convinced his bosses to buy a dilapidated Victorian home so that he could document its rehabilitation under the hammer of Norm Abram and the showmanship of Bob Vila. “This Old House” has been running for 35 years and counting!

His remarkable success continued with the launch of “The New Yankee Workshop” in 1989 and “Ask This Old House” in 2002. Russ’s programs are all based on a simple and revolutionary idea: authentic information, presented clearly by experts themselves. Often, through sheer force of will, he brought these programs into being. He taught and inspired a generation of TV producers who follow in his footsteps. Ultimately, his legacy is generations of TV viewers who value the expertise, work ethic, and skill of craftsmen and women, and who know the true value of a job well done.

The Daytime Creative Arts Emmy® Awards recognize outstanding achievement in all fields of daytime television production and are presented to individuals and programs broadcast from 2:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. during the 2013 calendar year.

Yangaroo, Inc. and Off the Wall Productions, are sponsors of the 41st Annual Daytime Creative Arts Emmy® Awards. FX Group is the publisher of the Emmy® Almanac, the official program of the 41st Annual Daytime® Awards.

The 41st Annual Daytime Creative Arts Emmy® Awards is a presentation of the National Academy of Television Arts & Sciences in cooperation with the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. A breakdown of the awards by network, as compiled by the independent accounting firm of Lutz & Carr, LLP, follows.
